

THREE TO ONE IN FOOT BALL

"Blacks" Defeated "Browns"
Saturday Afternoon

IT WAS IN A BENEFIT GAME

Mrs. Thomas Davidson Was the Result of a Tidy Sum as the Result of the Match. How the Game Was Played.

The benefit association match which was postponed from Wednesday afternoon on account of rain, was played at the Rangers' field Saturday afternoon and resulted in a victory for the Blacks over the Browns by the score of three to one. The two teams are made up mostly of the Rangers and Bonaccord teams with one or two players from the Hardwick team and in the game Saturday the players were so arranged that team mate played against team mate on their regular teams.

At the start of the first period the Blacks won the toss and McRobie kicked off for the Browns. Neither side scored in the first 10 minutes of play when Duguid got the ball on a kick in from the touch line and advanced the ball to the goal and Thompson failed to block the kick, which looked easy to stop.

After this the Blacks seemed to outplay their opponents and had the advantage all the time. Williamson scored after 50 minutes of play, taking the ball from the kick in from the line, dribbling the ball to the goal unassisted and scoring. Neither side scored again before the half time whistle blew.

Second Half.

Williamson kicked off for the Browns. The Browns started the half with 10 men as Brammer was disabled by wrenching his ankle in the first period. The rules were waived and Black was allowed to take his place on the Browns' team. The Browns played a stronger and faster game from the start in this period and came near to scoring several times and Smith succeeded in getting the ball through after about 15 minutes of play. The play was made by an advance to Smith by Allen.

The Browns chances looked the best here that they had during the match, but they soon lost the advances which they seemed to have gained, and Anderson finished the victory by kicking goal number three for the Blacks. Neither side scored again during the 10 minutes which remained to play.

The game was played as a benefit for Mrs. Thomas Davidson, whose husband died last winter and she realized a tidy sum from the efforts of the clubs.

SOME CLEVER WRESTLING.

In Which Bourdon Took Two Out of Three Falls From LeBlanc.

The catch-as-catch-can wrestling exhibition in the opera house Saturday evening by Eli H. Bourdon, of Claremont, N. H., and Robert LeBlanc, of Marlboro, Mass., two professionals in the art, was the best performance of its kind that ever took place on a mat in Barre and the strength, skill and endurance displayed by the two clean-cut athletes aroused no little enthusiasm in the crowd present which numbered some over a hundred.

The referee, E. H. Hunter of Claremont, N. H., announced that Bourdon had participated in over 100 matches and yet to meet defeat and was now in training to meet Fritz Hansen, the world-famous wrestler in the catch-as-catch-can style. LeBlanc, who is younger and lighter than Bourdon, the referee stated, had proved that he was the best man of his weight in Massachusetts.

In a match for blood it was clearly evident that LeBlanc would be out of his class with Bourdon who has years of experience to his advantage and ten pounds in weight. Bourdon's weight was 156 to LeBlanc's 146 and the former's stocky build and huge neck and shoulders were in striking contrast with the slim though well developed form of the latter.

Bourdon won the first and last fall and LeBlanc the second fall. It took the veteran Bourdon 19 minutes to get the very youngster to his shoulders squarely on the mat and hold them there in the first bout, the fall being made by the toe hold and half nelson hold. In just the same length of time LeBlanc had the big fellows shoulders on the mat in a half Nelson and scissors hold. The last fall went to Bourdon in 12 minutes when he got the youngster by the toe hold and twisted him onto his back.

White and he has won the name of the human cat in his home state. Between the second and last bouts the two wrestlers gave the audience an exhibition of the different holds used in this kind of wrestling such as the flying mare, head in chancery, standing hammer lock, full Nelson, half Nelson, etc.

While the wrestlers were resting between their bouts an amateur exhibition of catch-as-catch-can wrestling was given by John Stewart and William Florence of this city, in which both young men displayed knowledge of the art such as brought out commendation from referee and the audience. Florence won both falls in ten and seven minutes, respectively, by the half Nelson and head in chancery holds.

Chase for Men Had Continued for Weeks.

New York, Aug. 23.—After following three men from New York through Providence, Boston and Philadelphia, and then back to this city, seven detectives from police headquarters early today arrested the men as they were about to blow up a safe in Newark, N. J.

Weeks were spent in trailing the men, who the detectives assert, they had every reason to believe were responsible for a series of daring safe robberies in New York in the last few weeks.

Curing Nervous Dyspepsia.

The doctor had told her she had no organic trouble and the cure rested with herself. She had doctored and drugged for years, so, learning this good news, she determined to try a new plan.

Here is what she did:
She cut out all medicine.
She stopped dieting—that is, she tested things till she found those that agreed with her and ate of them freely.

She ate slowly, laughing and talking much in the process.

She gave up violent physical exercise, but took a brisk walk each day.

She took a cold sponge each morning, going back to bed for five minutes afterward before beginning to dress.

She gave herself massage of the abdominal, chest and throat muscles for five minutes morning and evening.

She stopped overstraining her mind. When her head or eyes began to feel tired she rested them.

She neglected to worry and cultivated her amusing friends.

In a month she was well.

A Mixed Compliment.

Joseph Leiter at a Washington dinner party a few days before his marriage said he agreed with John D. Rockefeller and Russell Sage that young men with their way to make in the world should not take vacations.

"A vacation doesn't strengthen the average man," said Mr. Leiter. "Deranging all his regular habits, it weakens him. He plays too hard on his vacation. He comes back home thin and pale and tired."

"But good, hard, regular work, with the temperate habits it necessitates, is good for a young man's health. Nearly all the breakdowns laid to hard work are really due to something else—to bad hours, to dissipation."

"I always liked to hear the story my father used to tell of a big rosy country preacher who said one Sunday morning in June:

"My friends, I am all run down from the winter's work, and the collection today will be devoted to my traveling expenses, as I am going to the shore for my health. The more you give the longer I can stay away."

"The preacher's look was rather confused when he announced afterward to the people that the collection had been the largest in the history of the church."

Chip Hats.

The manufacture of chip hats and plaits is very ancient and characteristic of the province of Modena, Italy, having been introduced at Carpi at the beginning of the sixteenth century by Nicolò Biondo, its inventor. The chip is made through a special process from a willow tree grown on the banks of the Po.

Names of the Days.

The English names for the days of the week are derived from the Saxon and the French from the Latin.

An Era of Poisoning.
During the middle ages, when the aristocracy of Florence and Venice was so tyrannical to its dependents, murder was considered as a small crime, and poisoning was so skillfully effected that many people lived almost entirely on boiled eggs.

PEOPLE OF THE DAY

To Work For Industrial Peace.

John Mitchell, former president of the United Mine Workers of America, who was recently appointed one of the executive heads of the National Civic federation, brings a wide experience to his new duties. Henceforth he will be in control of the trade agreement department of the federation and will devote his entire time to the task of bringing about industrial peace between employer and employee.

The position was offered to him some time ago by Seth Low, president of the federation. For five years Mr. Mitchell has been giving as much of his attention and time as he could to the furtherance of trade agreements in the business world. He has been connected with the Civic federation ever since it was founded, and his special interest was in the department of which he is now the head.

Concerning this new field of labor in the industrial world Mr. Mitchell said: "I am going to devote my entire time to the furtherance of business peace."

"I am not limited as to territory, and the whole Union will be my field of endeavor. My duties will be to further the interests of both employer and employee by agreements as to wages, hours of employment and the like, for the purpose of avoiding strikes and lockouts."

Mr. Mitchell's headquarters will be at the offices of the federation in New York city.

Good Ones.

Dr. Henry van Dyke of Princeton, who handles a trout rod almost as deftly as he handles a pen, was praising a book of new flies.

"They are wonderful flies," he said. "Why, if I venture to leave any of them lying around loose the spiders come and carry them off."

A Working Democrat.

Former Governor David R. Francis of Missouri, chairman of the Democratic campaign advisory committee, enjoys a reputation for political acumen. His selection is proof of the high regard in which he is held in that respect. Mr. Francis has been described as the most popular man in Missouri. He was governor four years, was secretary of the interior in the cabinet of President Cleveland and president of the Louisiana Purchase exposition, held at St. Louis.

It is said that Mr. Francis' fortune reached the seven figure mark many years ago. Yet with all his business cares and political activities he has time to be a good fellow and is noted for his wit. Several years ago he was a guest at one of the dinners of the Gridiron club at Washington. Just before the dinner he met a friend, who said:

"Dave, I wish you would tell me a funny story. I expect those fellows will call on me tonight, and I want to have something ready."

"You remind me of a time when I was campaigning in Missouri," replied Francis. "I got to a hotel, and the bill of fare consisted of corn bread, canned goods and bacon. I wasn't impressed. I wanted something good to eat, and I said to the landlady: 'Is that all you have to eat? I heard a lot of quail calling around here when I was driving in. Haven't you any quail?'"

"Stranger," said the hotel keeper, "if I had any quail I would eat them myself."

"Same with funny stories. If I knew one I'd keep it for myself."

A Million Persons.

One million persons in a crowd, allowing three square feet per person, would cover about seventy acres. In line, allowing eighteen inches to each, they would form a procession 284½ miles long.

LUMBER MILLS DESTROYED

A $100,000 Fire at Wilmington
Saturday

DWELLING-HOUSES BURNED

Superintendent Fred Sanborn of Deerfield Company Makes Daring Rescue—Over 200 Men Thrown Out of Work.

Wilmington, Aug. 23.—The town of Wilmington was visited Saturday morning by the most serious fire in its history, the big pulp-mill, saw-mill, two storehouses and three dwelling-houses owned by the Deerfield lumber company being burned. The loss exceeds $100,000. The property was insured for about two-thirds that amount. It is supposed a hotbox was the cause of the fire, which has thrown about 220 men out of employment. The plant had been running day and night and the men were about equally divided between the day and night shifts. The night shift quit work about 4:30 this morning and the day shift was due to begin at 6. The superintendent, Fred Sanborn, discovered that the pulp-mill was on fire about 5 and he quickly gave an alarm and soon had a force of men fighting the flames with streams of water from nearby hydrants, but the wind was blowing hard and the flames swept through the plant with great rapidity, and the streams of water offered little resistance to their progress. Seven hydrants and 3000 feet of hose were brought into use, but the efforts were useless. The mill was in ruins in less than an hour after the fire was discovered.

The pulp mill was a three-machine mill, with a daily capacity of 15 tons, and the sawmill had a capacity of 70,000 to 80,000 feet daily. The mills were located in a part of the town known as Mountain Mills, about two miles from the village. They were established about 14 years ago, and the business of the company had grown to be the largest of its kind in the state. A. N. Blandin of Bath, N. H., is president and principal owner. The company recently built a railroad from the mills to the big timber tract which includes the land of the Battenkill and Somerset lumber companies. The mill will probably be rebuilt.

The Moses Newton gold mining company, which is conducting exploration work in the vicinity, suffered a slight loss by the fire its building being burned, also eight freight cars. The office building of the lumber company and the lumber stored in the yard were saved. There were no fatalities, but Mrs. Patrick Foley and her young child narrowly escaped death. Soon after the fire was discovered, the flames spread to Mrs. Foley's house, while she and her child were asleep. Fred Sanborn, the superintendent of the mill, rushed into the house and carried out the child, but when he attempted to return for Mrs.

Foley the fire barred his way. By means of a ladder he was able to enter a second-story window and rescue the woman. The bed was in operation all night, and it is believed that the lubricating oil in the journal box had been used up, causing a hotbox, which started the fire.

A BARN BURNED.
A Loss of $10,000 in Stock, Tools and Buildings.
Fairfield, Aug. 23.—A barn on the farm of Henry J. Merrill of this town was destroyed by fire Saturday, together with a large amount of stock and farming implements. The loss is estimated at $10,000.
